

Impact of Agriculture Policies Experiences from Asian Countries and Implications for Viet Nam

Edited by Randolph Barker

Southbound 1995

This book contains a series of essays by a group of scholars who have spent many years in agricultural policy analysis in various Asian market economies. Their purpose is to identify elements in the experience of neighbouring economies that might have relevance for Viet Nam as she shifts from centralized planning toward market economy. The contents include:

Contents

Foreword

Preface

Chapter One Overview of Impact of Agriculture Policies: Experiences from Asian Countries and Implications for Vietnam

By Randolph Barker &amp; Vernon W. Ruttan

A Strategy for Viet Nam

Environment for Policy Reform

Summary of Policy Experiences and Implications for Viet Nam

Chapter Two Investment Priorities in Asian Agriculture

By Randolph Barker

Complementarity Between Agricultural and Industrial Development

The Role of the Government in Agricultural Development

Extracting a Surplus from Agriculture

Estimating the Appropriate Share of Investment for Agriculture

Changing Investment Priorities Within Agriculture

Infrastructure, Institutions, and the Role of Foreign Aid

The Public Sector and the Market Economy

Looking Ahead

Implications for Viet Nam

Reference

Chapter Three Price Policy for Agricultural Products and Inputs: Asian Experiences and Issues for Viet Nam

By C. Peter Timmer

Comparative Experience with Price Policy

Analysis of Agricultural Price Policy in Asia

Elements of a Viet Namese Price Policy for the 1990s

An Opportunity for Change

References

Chapter Four Research, Extension and Productivity in Asian Agriculture: Implications for Viet Nam

By Robert E. Evenson

Agricultural Research and Extension Systems in Asia

Planning and Priority Setting in Agricultural Research

Productivity and Returns to Research and Extension

Productivity Decomposition Studies- Illustrative Methods

Implications for Viet Nam
Notes
References

Chapter Five Agricultural Credit Policy: Some Lessons for Viet Nam from the Philippines and Other Developing Countries

By V. Bruce J. Tolentino

The Keynesian Prescription
Financial Repression
Financial Repression and the Informal Financial Market
Government Intervention as a Solution
The Philippines' Experience with Supply-Led Finance
Financial Liberalization
Financial Liberalization in the Philippines: the Prospects
Foundations of an Efficient Agricultural Credit Systems
The Components of an Efficient Financial System
Implications for Viet Nam
References

Chapter Six Public Policies Towards Agricultural Diversification in Thailand and Their Relevance to Viet Nam

By Ammar Siamwalla, Direk Patamasirawat, and Suthad Setboonsarng

Rationale for Public Intervention to Promote Diversification
Pricing Policies
Credit
Irrigation
Research and Extension
The Pattern of Thai Agricultural Diversification
The Relevance of the Thai Experience for Diversification of Viet Nameese Agriculture
Notes
References

http://www.southbound.com.my/agri\_aqua/imp-cn.htm